3. [redacted] BRIEFING [redacted] OWI, and I met with Dr. Charles Sheldon, Soviet space expert at the Library of Congress, and showed him examples of noncompartmented Agency publications on Soviet space activities which we will be providing to him on a regular basis. Dr. Sheldon said he felt such publications should satisfy his requirements. OWI will start sending the material to the NASA reading room for Dr. Sheldon's review under existing arrangements. I informed Dr. Sheldon that we would send letters to NASA and to Chairman Don Fuqua (D., Fla.), House Science and Technology Subcommittee on Space Science and Applications, confirming the arrangements, including prior CIA review of any unclassified studies that Dr. Sheldon may publish based on CIA information.

6. [REDACTED] LIAISON Talked to Norvill Jones, Chief of Staff, Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to make sure that Richard Grimmitt and Robert Bell, both with the Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service, were in fact working for the Committee on a foreign military sales study, which Jones affirmed. Jones agreed that the Committee would be responsible for their actions and if we had any problems because of their desire to get into unusually sensitive areas to let him know.

7. [REDACTED] LIAISON Richard Grimmitt, Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service, called about the status of the request they had for a briefing in support of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee report on foreign arms sales. I told him arrangements were set for a half hour session on 24 October with [REDACTED], CSS/NFAC, and [REDACTED] OER, for he and his co-worker, Robert Bell. [REDACTED] will also sit in as the representative from OLC.
